The Kaiser and I

By Stuart Fortey

Directed by Dominic Goodwin

WRELTON VILLAGE HALL
THURSDAY 28TH JUNE 2018 - 7.30PM

It's Berlin, 1914, and the music has to stop. Kaiser Wilhelm has summoned a dance instructress from England to put his officers through their paces, but now war is only days away...

From ballroom to battlefield and beyond, this two-hander charts the friendship of a man and a woman caught in their nations' crossfire.

The Writing on the Wall!

We were contacted earlier this month by Suzanne Thorneycroft who, along with her family, live at High Coppice Farm. Suzanne sent through the following message:-

"... we have discovered some very old writing dating back to early 1900's on the wall of the top floor of the very nearly dilapidated granary and I fear that in time this beautiful writing (including a heart-wrenching love poem) will be lost. So, very carefully, we have been up there (it's not entirely safe... 16th-century floorboards...) and photographed the writing as best we could, some of it is really barely legible, but it's incredibly moving, telling of what months and years crops were sown and harvested and as I have mentioned, the beautiful poem, which I am slowly deciphering as it is quite faded in areas. I would love to share these with you if you would be interested? At least then the beauty of those moments, could be documented and immortalized as they so deserve to be."

Suzanne has kindly sent some good sized photographs through which can be seen on our website under the history section but we would like to share her interpretation of the poem.

"When you and I my love shall part
Shall it leave a sting inside our hearts
I to some distant land shall go
Sleep missing words any others do
All this I've said, have more to say
missing word calls me now I cannot stay
With meditation read missing word lines
You may inside a question find
My question is please find out
Love is a truth without a doubt"

Underneath the poem there is another line which reads:

"There is joy in every missing word when there is love at home"

Also, there are some names which look like 'Maud, James or Jamieson'.

If you have any more further information please get in touch.

Thank you to Suzanne and her husband for sharing this.

Dear Parishioners,

You may recall following a survey in 2007 a Parish Plan was produced. This can be viewed via this link.

<https://democracy.ryedale.gov.uk/documents/s13081/AislabyMiddletonWreltonPP2011.pdf>

The District Council has recently published their plan for development across Ryedale (this can be seen on the NYCC website) and beyond and the Parish Council thought it might be useful to revisit the Parish Plan in light of this. This will serve as both a review and also to update the wishes and needs of parish residents. Do the same problems exist, are they resolved or redundant? Are there new issues we should be addressing?

For example, ten years ago there was no plan for 'fracking' in the area; is traffic still problematic; does Middleton still need a play area? There may be more and we would be pleased to hear your views.

You are invited to comment via the parish council email address which is aismidwrel@gmail.com

The Parish Council

Following the launch of the 2018 National Rural Crime Survey, I am appealing for as many people as possible in North Yorkshire to complete the survey to ensure that North Yorkshire's voice is heard.

The survey is available on-line here:

<http://www.nationalruralcrimenetwork.net/survey>

In short, I want to know the true picture of crime and anti-social behaviour in rural communities across North Yorkshire – from Skipton to Sleights, Stokesley to Selby, we want to hear people's voices. This survey is an excellent way to get that understanding, and in turn hold the police to account for the services we receive.

North Yorkshire's geography means rural crime has a particularly strong impact on people, whether that be the sheer distance they live from their neighbour, or the moorlands being a perfect habitat for birds of prey which brings with it opportunities for wildlife crime. The number of farms and rural businesses also increases the opportunities for cross-border crime, whether that be a livery, a farm or financial services.

The survey closes on 10 June 2018.

Thank you very much for your help.

Kind regards

Julia Mulligan

Police and Crime Commissioner for North Yorkshire
